

MEDIA RELEASE

ENDGAME RECORDS, 1/4 INCH & WOLLONGONG CITY GALLERY PRESENT: SOUNDS OF HOMES - Nature's Place?

Sounds Of Homes - Nature's Place is a new audio-visual installation being presented at Wollongong City Gallery from 4th - 26th of September.

The installation is an immersive environmental piece that focuses on place, human connectivity and acoustic ecology. All the sounds and visual elements were collected from selected natural habitats in Murramarang National Park and Kioloa State Forest in South Eastern N.S.W.

The artists behind Sounds Of Homes are Tegan Northwood (concept and sound), Shane Fahey (sound) and Honi Ryan (visuals).

OPENING NIGHT PERFORMANCES - 4th Sept, 7-10pm, free

The exhibition opening night shall feature 3 audio-visual performances:

Sounds Of Homes (Tegan Northwood, Shane Fahey and Honi Ryan) shall be collaborating to remix live the audio and visual elements that are present in their Nature's Place installation.

Joining them on the night shall be local Wollongong creatives Aaron Hull and Greg Hughes. This duo's performance shall involve surround sound and multi-screen visual projections in order to explore concepts of space, affect, nostalgia, memory and the artist's local and global emblematic identities.

Lastly, Sydney-based artist, Scott Morrison shall also be performing on the night. He shall be presenting audio-visual abstractions and investigations into Australia's rural landscape.
